

14S40

Platoon Sergeant

Platoon Sergeant for a forward deployed Air and Missile Defense (AMD) Battery in support of Higher Echelon. Responsible for the health, welfare, morale, training, and supervision of 17-21 Soldiers and NCOs. Provides technical and tactical guidance to accomplish the daily duties of his/her platoon, to include supply, food service, NBC Operations, as well as the overall training, operations, and administrative support for the platoon. Responsible for vehicles and support equipment, valued in excess of $25M. Evaluates all positions in the firing battery. Writes and implements the training plan for the platoon. Evaluates the battery defense design and briefs command on deficiencies, and subordinates for execution. Coordinates training with all platoons to facilitate unit training. Ensures proper cross training across positions to prevent degradation upon loss of crew personnel. Ensures all training is IAW ARTEP and TSOP standards. Advises the commander on the training status of the platoon. Supervises AVENGER/MANPADS operations. Performs or supervises ADA operations and intelligence duties. Assists platoon leader in planning, management and training activities of subordinate sections. Performs and supervises ADA battle management center operations. Conducts platoon reconnaissance, selection and occupation of position (RSOP). Coordinates platoon and section logistical activities.

OFFICE, CHIEF OF AIR DEFENSE ARTILLERY

FOU